

---

The HKSAR Government Chinese Language Interface (CCLI) Website

Thursday, 24 September 2009

Last Updated Thursday, 24 September 2009

Under the Digital 21 Strategy for IT Development, the Government has established an open and common Chinese language interface (CCLI) for the HKSAR to facilitate more effective electronic communication using Chinese by the public. A pivotal element of the CCLI is the adoption of the ISO 10646 standard and the Hong Kong Supplementary Character Set (HKSCS).

Under the Digital 21 Strategy for IT Development, the Government has established an open and common Chinese language interface (CCLI) for the HKSAR to facilitate more effective electronic communication using Chinese by the public. A pivotal element of the CCLI is the adoption of the ISO 10646 standard and the Hong Kong Supplementary Character Set (HKSCS).

The CCLI Thematic Website has been implemented on the advice of the Chinese Language Interface Advisory Committee (CLIAC) to promote the wider adoption of the CCLI in the community. Please click the below link to browser the related websites.

<http://www.ccli.gov.hk/cindex.html> (traditional Chinese)

<http://www.ccli.gov.hk/scindex.html> (simplified Chinese)

<http://www.ccli.gov.hk/eindex.html> (English)